Description: ACP 30 is a non-hazardous liquid aluminum based inorganic/organic coagulant blend. The product is designed for use in a variety of industrial and municipal wastewater treatment applications.

ACP 30 is a highly concentrated primary coagulant for use in liquid/solid separation. It is especially effective at removing contaminants when very low solids are present. ACP 30 can be used alone or in conjunction with one of the ACS Series of flocculants, such as AP 720 to enhance floc size, density, sedimentation and dewatering characteristics.
